this book describes the recent scottish independence referendum as the latest incarnation of a contest between two times on one hand an ideally continuous time beyond determination underpinning financial sovereignty on the other the interruptions to this ideal continuity inherent in human action first used to describe the weariness the public felt toward media portrayals of societal crises the term compassion fatigue has been taken up by health professionals to name along with burnout vicarious traumatization compassion stress and secondary traumatic stress the condition of caregivers who become too tired to care compassion long seen as the foundation of ethical caring is increasingly understood as a threat to the well being of those who offer it through the lens of hermeneutic phenomenology the authors present an insider s perspective on compassion fatigue its effects on the body on the experience of time and space and on personal and professional relationships accounts of health professionals alongside examinations of poetry images movies and literature are used to explore the notions of compassion hope and hopelessness as they inform the meaning of caring work the authors frame their exposé of compassion fatigue with the very canadian metaphor of lying down in the snow if suffering is imagined as ever falling snow then the need for training and resources for safe journeying in winter country becomes apparent recognizing the phenomenon of compassion fatigue reveals the role that health services education and the moral habitability of our healthcare environments play in supporting professionals ability to act compassionately and to endure journey in the wild is a deeply reflective emotive and thought provoking book from the author of showers from the fountain while depicting my ongoing struggle with illness in prose it is also encouraging as it challenges me to focus on god in spite of difficult time and offers strong dependence and trust in god pains and sufferings are part of life but we don t have to do it alone let the morning bring me word of your unfailing love psalm 143 8 and the night comfort me with your presence and divine vision in the day set your angels on guard to protect me from all harm this book explores the doctrine of ascension and barth s ascension thought in particular first it examines the doctrine of jesus christ s ascension into heaven presenting a sustained discussion of karl barth s approach to this doctrine and the significance of the doctrine within his theology as a whole secondly through examining barth s ascension thought and dialoguing with three other theologians torrance farrow and jenson a clearer understanding of barth and his theology is achieved the treatment of issues related to christ s ascension across a broader protestant perspective increases the relevance and usefulness of this unique study andrew burgess presents the doctrine of the ascension as an important and undervalued doctrine and encourages christians to see how like barth they might benefit in their ability to think coherently about the present age and about jesus in relation to this age enabling further thought about the work of the holy spirit the church and christian ethics whither chinese management the middle kingdom has come a long way since the economic reforms were introduced after 1978 as ownership has opened up and has become more fragmented the state owned firms no longer dominate the scene nor does their management model managing has also become more complex and diversified as well as more professional this book asks what the next steps are likely to be and will assess the current directions in which chinese managers are developing as its economy slows down in the face of global uncertainty it aims to update previous works in the field covering business and management in these countries it covers a wide range of topics including banking competition employee satisfaction expatriates industrial relations hrm organization smes social responsibility strategic sourcing trust and so on the book also asks in which future directions management may be moving in this important part of the international economy the authors are all experts in their fields and are all based in universities and business schools in countries such as australia and the uk among others the work is aimed at undergraduate and postgraduate students in business administration especially those on mba programmes as well as those studying development economics management studies and related courses including lecturers in those subjects this book was published as a special issue of asia pacific business review
